

Purdue Society of Professional Engineers

What is PSPE about?

The Purdue Society of Professional Engineers is affiliated with the National Society of Professional Engineers, the Indiana Society of Professional Engineers and the AA Potter chapter in Indiana. All of these organizations have outstanding reputations and are well known in the engineering field. The goal of this organization and its parent organizations is to promote professionalism, leadership and ethics within the engineering profession.

PSPE is also the parent organization of the Rube Goldberg Team. This team builds a machine for a design competition. Our team has enjoyed success at both the regional and the national level for the past several years.
